WHEREAS, the Office of the Municipal Tourism through the Senior Tourism Operations Officer, has sent a letter-request to the Sangguniang Bayan for the inclusion of minimum budgetary requirements and mandatory cultural and non-cultural activities aligned with DILG MC NO. 2002-81, formulation of programs and recommendations to develop and sustain local cultural and artistic talents, cultural industries, traditional and contemporary arts and crafts, and their processes; conduct of cultural events such as cultural festivals, competition, lectures, seminars and symposia;

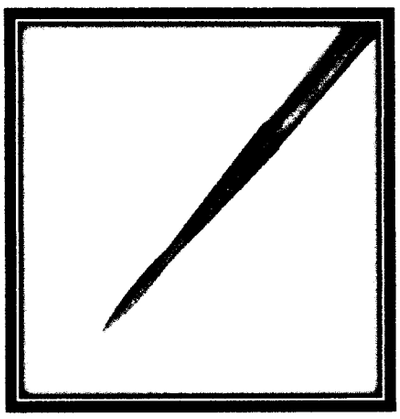

WHEREAS, Ordinance No. 04, S. 2017 as above-titled does not provide minimum budgetary allocation which would be regularly allocated for its yearly celebration, thus, a need to incorporate herein the budget allocation under the Tourism Section of the Executive Office under Account Codes 8000-007-3-1-01-001-001 and 8000-007-3-1-01-002-001.

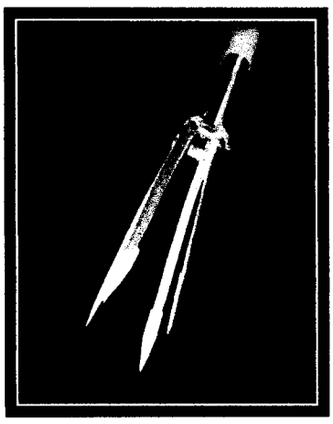

NOW THEREFORE:

BE IT ORDAINED, by the Sangguniang Bayan of Barobo, Surigao del Sur, in session, THAT:

Section 1. TITLE. The title of this Ordinance is "ORDINANCE NAMING THE ANNUAL FESTIVAL OF THIS MUNICIPALITY AS "SARAPANG FESTIVAL" AND APPROPRIATING FUNDS THEREFOR, AS AMENDED".

Section 2. DEFINITION, MEANING AND PICTURE OF "SARAPANG". Sarapang – refers to a tool or weapon used by the native Kamayo in fish capture; a weapon that they usually used to defend themselves during times when their lives are endangered, and in animal hunting in the forest. Other people like the Agusanons who are more of the Manobo called it "bankaw", which picture is shown hereunder:

Section 3. SIGNIFICANCE AND REASONS OF NAMING "SARAPANG" FESTIVAL. Sarapang was once a popular tool/weapon by the early settlers of Barobo. It also symbolizes the identity of the original Barobonanon as fishers who controlled the coastal areas up to the upstream of Barobo. As a matter of fact, Barobo is among the fishing capitals of the province. It is the place where you can find abundance in fishes and variety of seashells.

Further, Sarapang connotes the idea of "good catch or good harvest" which further be interpreted that the early Barobohanons have enjoyed the fruits of their labor as fishers.

Furthermore, Sarapang also depicts the identity of the Kamayo as fearless or has a sense of bravery. In fact, authors like Collin (1900), Pastel, Almeda (1993), and Tomaquin (2003) have all agreed that the early Mandayan society are warlike society or can be characterized as a Head-hunting society.

Section 4.* OBJECTIVES.

a) To trace the ethnicity of the native Barobohanons;
b) To discuss the brief historical overview of Barobo;
c) To provide understanding as to the identity of the native of Barobohanons;
d) To provide insights as to the early description of the place prior to its creation as a municipality;
e) Provide historical background as to the name of town's annual festival celebration

Section 5.* VITALITY. The vitality of naming the festival as Sarapang is to trace the historical and cultural backgrounds, reflect the identity of the place based on the people's ethnicity, cultural practices, important landmarks, dominance of species of plants and animals found in the locality, or other things that have high value or significance to the people in a particular geographical area.

Section 6.* HISTORY.

A) Pre-Spanish Era. During the pre-Spanish time, Barobo was inhabited by Non-Islam and Non-Christian tribes who settled in the Upland Rivers of the place who spoke the language that resembles the "Kamayo Language" today;

B) Ethnicity of the Native Barobohanons. Referring to the National Commission of Indigenous People (NCIP, 2000), Lianga was once a place of scattered settlements of the early Mandaya Tribe. Barobo was part of the Municipality of Lianga until 1960, hence, we can infer that the native Barobohanon have traces of the bigger Mandaya Tribe;

C) The Mandaya.

- Velasquez (n.d.) had discussed the etymology of the words. Mandaya derives from "Man" – First, "Daya" – Upstream. Accordingly, the Mandaya are found along the mountain ranges of Davao Oriental.
- Ompang (n.d.) also discussed that early Mandaya existence are in the present provinces of Davao Oriental, Davao del Norte and Compostela Valley, and from Tago town of Surigao del Sur and Southern part of Agusan del Sur.

D. The Kamayo. According to Hasselbring et. al (2011), Kamayo is the term for the people and Kinamayo for the language. The municipalities most commonly known as home to Kamayo are from north to south: Marihatag, San Agustin, Lianga, Barobo, Tagbina, Hinatuan, Bislig City, and Lingig in Surigao del Sur; and Boston, Cateel, and Baganga of Davao Oriental. Kamayo people in Lianga and Barobo also reported that some Kamayo live in Prosperidad, the capital of Agusan del Sur where it is located just west of Barobo and Lianga Municipalities.

E. KAMAYO, the Descendants of Other Indigenous Groups. Tomaquin (2003) argued that the Kamayos of the Southern Part of Surigao del Sur have all rights to claim that they are part of the bigger Mandaya tribe since there is resemblance and similarities in the language used by the Kamayo and that of the Mandaya in Davao Region.

F. MANOBO AND MANDAYA: A COMPARATIVE DESCRIPTION. Manobos have darker complexion and much smaller than the Mandayas who are much taller and have lighter complexion, thus Manobos and Mandayas closely resemble.

Manobo

Mandaya

G. THE LIFE OF THE EARLY MANDAYA/KAMAYO OF BAROBO. Pastell, Tomaquin, Yengoyan, and Galvez all agree that Mandayas were the first dwellers in the upstream of Surigao del Sur and Davao "Region. As riverside dwellers, they became good fishers.

- Ompang (n.d.) explained that Mandaya are freshwater fishing experts.
- Galvez (2016) explained that fishing is the major livelihood of the Mandaya Indigenous People which includes various methods of fishing such as pamalangre, pamalugdan, panuntun, dagawunan, pamingwit/panunton, serekenya, panglokus, bargati o karas, panuga, arung and payaw.

H. NATIVE AND MIGRANT FISHERS AS SHAPERS OF THE MUNICIPALITY OF BAROBO.

- The early settlement of Barobo is a recognized place for native fishers; the Kamayo/Mandaya people.

- The founding fathers of the Municipality are all descendants of the first and second wave of migrants who were fishers originated from Visayas and Luzon. The abundance of fishes and the prospect of better living prompted them to stay in the place. Later on, they intermarriage with the natives and have sons and daughters who became educated and were responsible for the creation of the Municipality of Barobo.

Dear Gentlemen/Mesdames;

Greetings!

I have the honor to return to your level SB Ordinance no. 18 series of 2026 without approval, with the recommendation to revise the title of the Ordinance, to be named hereunder stated;

> "ORDINANCE NAMING SARAPANG FESTIVAL AS ONE OF THE FESTIVE ACTIVITIES IN THE ANNUAL CELEBRATION FOR THE ARAW NG BAROBO AND APPROPRIATING FUNDS THEREFORE, AS AMENDED"

For the following reasons;

1. That the Annual Celebration of the "Araw ng Barobo" should not be mistakenly overtaken by the activities such as the Sarapang Festival, as the same is only a commemoration of historical and ethnic traditions of the native Barobohanons which showcases street dances, and other local creative gatherings.

2. The Annual Celebration as stated on section 7 of this proposed ordinance is every October 24 of the year of which in effect would subsequently be misinterpreted to replace the "Araw ng Barobo". Recommend that this section would indicate the date of celebration of activities to start five (5) days before the "Araw" and culminate on the 24th day of the month which is the "Araw ng Barobo"

Hope this information be given your consideration and appropriate action.
